

Fun with figurines

Brit ceramic artist Barnaby Barford (profiled in our June issue), known for his witty customised figurines, has made a short animated film for Channel 4. Airing in September, Damaged Goods is a tragic love story played out by figurines in a junk shop. Expect Barnaby's trademark mix of pathos and humour to take centre stage.

For more details, see www.animateprojects.org.

The film will also be available to download from September at www.4mations.tv